

HELEN KERSLAKE and JANE ROLLER

Helen Kerslake, is Assistant Principal Educational Psychologist and Lead for Critical Incidents, and Jane Roller is Senior Educational and Child Psychologist, both working from Bi-Borough Education Psychology Consultation Service, Kensington and Chelsea and Westminster.

Helen and Jane have worked as educational psychologists (EPs) within Kensington and Chelsea for over 20 years, working with schools and families to support the learning, achievement and wellbeing of children and young people.

Their work has included offering consultation and training to schools at the individual, group and organisational level, in relation to a wide range of areas, including supporting schools to develop their approach and response to bereavement, loss and trauma.

Following the Grenfell fire tragedy on June 14th 2017, Helen and Jane led the EP team's critical incident response to the 17 local school communities directly affected by the tragedy. The EP team continues to be involved in working systemically with school communities to help to promote resilience and recovery, and to develop restorative interventions for children and young people
